Valour Canada Newsletter • March 2022

Dear Valour Canada Supporters,

It is with mixed feelings that I advise the members and supporters of Valour Canada that I will be stepping down as President on the 18th of March. Over the past years, I have thoroughly enjoyed working with the Valour Canada team to promote Canadian military history with youth across the country. We have had some tremendous successes with our online programmes - over the past three years, nearly 1 million people have accessed our online programmes in one way or another!

I would like to thank the staff for their indefatigable work over the past years and in particular during the difficult Covid period. Aaron Curtis has moved our education programmes forward with great success and Rachel Vendsel has kept the office running smoothly - Thank you both. I would also like to recognize Caroline and Laora who work with us part-time for all the work they have done on our virtual tours and military history library. During my time with Valour Canada, the Board of Directors has provided great support and I would like to thank them for all that they do behind the scenes to ensure Valour Canada is successful. Finally, I would like to thank the members and supports of Valour Canada. Without your incredible support, we would not be able to reach so many students across the country. By purchasing a membership, attending an event or making a donation, you have enabled us to be a national leader in the educating of youth about Canada's rich military history and heritage - Thank you!

Valour Canada is poised for a strong future - one that is more important in today's complex world than ever before. In closing, I would like to quote John Bercow, MP; "History is more than the path left by the past, it influences the present and can shape the future." I look forward to seeing Valour Canada continue its work in educating the next generation who will undoubtedly influence the future of Canada and the world.

Thank you again and I look forward to seeing you at future Valour Canada events.

Yours aye,

Peter Boyle
